SUMMARY.

In a leading article the "Times" speaks of the tendency among settlers in the colony to break the law in the colonies to retain control of their interests abroad.

The "Times" urges the necessity of Mr. Gladstone's inquiry into the fiscal system to ascertain the possibility of increasing the material bonds between the motherland and the colonies.

The labour party of West Birmingham nominated a candidate to contest the seat against Mr. Churchill in the next election.

Dr. Morrison, the Peking correspondent of the "Times," says that events in the Far East will shortly compel the world's attention.

Japan has made proposals to Australia for the grant of reciprocal recognition of each other's rights in Manchuria and Korea.

Venetian newspapers demand that strict measures be taken against the Bulgarian inciters.

Bulgaria has mobilized the reserve battalions of the two frontier regiments in order to prevent large bands passing through.

Despite the fact that now is the best opportunity to continue to cross the border, Bulgaria has mobilized, and are proceeding to greater and greater numbers.

The divisions of the army of Serbia have been mobilized, and are proceeding to greater and greater numbers.

The meeting declared that Serbia, Bulgaria, and Montenegro ought to occupy and rebuild the Turkish Empire.

Parties in the Tetovo and Kostovo districts were requested to prepare for a war against the Christians.

Prince Ferdinand of Bulgaria has left Sofia, his capital.

The London police do not believe the story that Dr. Fanny Hickman, who disappeared from the Royal Hotel, is staying with a man at Brighton.

Ministers has won the county cricket champion.

For the month of August the State revenue was £55,776, being an increase of £9,27 over August, 1902.

The revenue for the first two months of the year is £1,613,678, being £19,451 in excess of the total for the corresponding period of last year.

The Legislative Assembly meets to-day under the sessional order, which enables Government to take action before the election.

He said that the second reading of the measure would come on to-day, and he did not anticipate any opposition.

The Federal Premier said that he believed the Admiralty had no arrangements for British sailors to get Australian water in accordance with the terms of the Naval Agreement Bill.

Officers will be called in a few days for the change of sail from Australia to England.

He believed that on account of the expense he will not be made a part of call in the great mail contract.

Mr. Watson, Comptroller of Customs, has said that the bonus will not be paid to those grown from plants purchased at home by employing coloured labour.

The Town Hall Committee, Mr. Henry Agius, was welcomed by the Mayor and a number of prominent citizens.

MR. COPELAND'S VISIT.

The arrival of Mr. Copeland on a short visit to the State has given the people of New South Wales an opportunity of discussing the work of their Agent-General from a new standpoint.

It is realised that the gentleman in question is in a very difficult position. He is the holder of an office which is claimed by many advocates of economy to be superfluous and, indeed, when federation was being fought for in these lands it was a common contention that a High Commissioner could be substituted for six Agents-General to the manifold advantage of the Commonwealth.

Mr. Copeland has met this with an activity so comprehensive and continuous that he has set something like a new standard, and the question has arisen whether economy would be served by a change. We are only too pleased to admit the Agent-General's worth in this respect. The reception he was given yesterday by the Lord Mayor and representative citizens at the Town Hall was sufficient witness to the estimation in which the public hold him, and Mr. Copeland is quite entitled to feel satisfied with the warmth of the welcome home. At the same time it cannot be forgotten that his relations with the See Government represent a serious headache. This constitutes another reason for the difficulty of the position in which he is placed.

Mr. Copeland has approached this life September 1, 1902, in Mount Vernon, Finsbury, London, aged 11 months, and died by his mother, Mrs. Copeland, and Alfred Stanford.

THE DEATH—In fond memory of my dear wife, Annie Nichols, who died January 1, 1902, aged 28 years. A good and loving wife, inserted by her loving husband.

The opening hand-bills conveyed.

And hence it rests.

We shall meet beyond the river.

Emitted by his loving mother, brothers, and sisters.

MARRIED—In aid and loving memory of our dear wife, Annie Nichols, who died January 1, 1902, aged 28 years. Inserted by her loving mother and sisters.

MCKEE—A tribute of love to the memory of our little son, Raymond. Peter Nelson, beloved infant son of George and Hannah Nelson, and grandson of Mr. and Mrs. Peter Nelson, of Paddington, Sydney, 1902, aged 2 years and 11 months. Not forgotten.

SPECIAL CABLES.
FROM THE "HERALD'S" LONDON CORRESPONDENTS.

THE FAR EAST.

DR. MORRISON'S PREDICTION.
KOREAN INDEPENDENCE DOOMED.

LONDON, Aug. 30.
Dr. Morrison, the Peking correspondent of the "Times," says that events in the Far East will shortly compel the world's attention.

Korean independence, he states, is doomed, and many considerations will weigh with Japan against remaining passive in the face of Russian aggression.

(The above appeared in a portion of yesterday's issue.)

JAPAN'S PROPOSALS.
RECIPROCAL RECOGNITION OF RIGHTS.

LONDON, Aug. 30.
The proposals made by Japan to Russia for the settlement of Far Eastern questions require a reciprocal recognition of each other's rights in Manchuria and Korea.

Opinion in St. Petersburg is that there is little prospect of a settlement on such a basis.

(The above appeared in a portion of yesterday's issue.)

THE ARRESTED JOURNALISTS AT SHANGHAI.

CHINA'S PROMISE.

LONDON, Aug. 30.
Great Britain, the United States, and Japan unitedly resist the proposal to hand over to China the six Chinese journalists arrested in the foreign quarter of Shanghai for having mildly criticised the actions of the Government.

China's latest promise, made through Chang-ching-tung, is not to punish the journalists with death.

(The above appeared in a portion of yesterday's issue.)

SIX DEFENDANTS WHO ARE ARRESTED IN THE FOREIGN SETTLEMENT OF SHANGHAI ARE CHARGED WITH SEDITIONOUS STATEMENTS.

The Chinese government has agreed to release the six defendants who were arrested in the foreign settlement of Shanghai for the seditious statements published in the Chinese and the municipal council of the settlement had agreed with the Tao-tao of the city that the trial should be held in the foreign settlement.

The trial was suspended, but this agreement of the Tao-tao was overruled by the Chinese high officials, who maintained that the matter must be tried in the principal city.

The matter then became one for the diplomatic negotiations between the Chinese and the Empress Dowager ordering the summary decapitation of the six prisoners.

Needless to say that the prisoners, still being under guard, are not connected with the newspaper and one other had merely criticised the acts of a former Governor of Wang-an.

M.R. CHAMBERLAIN'S SEAT.

WORKERS' OPPOSITION.

LONDON, Aug. 31.
The Labour party of West Birmingham, which is represented in the House of Commons by Mr. Joseph Chamberlain, the Secretary of State for the Colonies, has nominated Mr. Davis, the secretary of the Amalgamated Society of Drama Workmen, to contest the seat against Mr. Chamberlain at the next election.

THE RUSSIAN MINISTRY.

M. WITTE PRESIDENT.

LONDON, Aug. 31.
M. Witte, while retaining the supreme direction of the Ministry of Finance of Russia, has been appointed president of the committee of Ministers with a view of expediting the conclusion of a commercial treaty with Germany.

ALLEGED INSURANCE FRAUD.

ITALIAN COUNTESS IMPLICATED.

A GRUESOME SCHEME.

LONDON, Aug. 31.
The "Daily Mail" reports that the Countess of Udine, wife of the Italian Minister of War, has been implicated in an insurance company.

It is stated that she tried to obtain money on the life of her sister, who was supposed to be dead.

Several accomplices who were connected with the substitution of a dying patient from a hospital for her sister have been arrested.

There are also charges of forgery pending.

It is rumoured that proofs of other crimes were discovered at the residence of the Countess.

ARGYLLSHIRE ELECTION.

THE "DEAR LOAF" CRY.

LONDON, Aug. 30.
The return of Mr. Ainsworth, the Liberal candidate for Argyllshire, by such a large majority was largely due to the statement that a "dear loaf" would follow the carrying out of Mr. Chamberlain's preferential tariff scheme.

THE MISSING LADY DOCTOR.

THE BRUNXTON STORY NOT BELIEVED.

LONDON, Aug. 30.
The story published by the "Daily News" that Dr. Fanny Hickman, who has disappeared from the Royal Free Hospital, is staying quietly with a lady friend at Bruxton, is not believed by the police, who are still searching for her.

CANADIAN STEAMSHIP CONTRACT.

LINE TO BORDEAUX.

LONDON, Aug. 31.
Canada has contracted with Colombian Ferries, of Bordeaux, for a steamship service between Bordeaux and Quebec in the summer and between Bordeaux and Halifax and St. John's in the winter.

The contract is to last for 10 years, beginning in April next. The price is £100,000 (£20,000) for 18 trips a year, or £35,000 (£6,000) for 24 trips a year.

TO REMAIN IN TURKISH WATERS.

LONDON, Aug. 31.
Though the report of the murder of Mr. Maguire, the United States Vice-Consul at Beyrouth is incorrect, the departure of the American squadron, consisting of the cruisers Brooklyn, San Francisco, and Machias, for Asia Minor, has not been countermanded. The American Secretary of State, however, has advised the President that it is advisable, owing to the unrest in Turkey, to have warships in Turkish waters.

FERNANDO RETURNS HOME.

FUTILITY OF BULGARIAN PRE-VENTION.

LONDON, Aug. 31.
Prince Ferdinand of Bulgaria, his captain, and the Bulgarian troops on the frontier, in response to the emphatic appeal which Austria made to Prince Ferdinand, have been ordered to co-operate with the Turks in preventing the passage of Bulgarian bands over the border.

The population of the principality is murmuring at the order, and resents the severe measures which are now taken, denouncing them as unfair and unpatriotic.

Opinion in Vienna considers that the latest train outrage was the work of anarchists.

BULGARIA MOBILISES RESERVES.

ANXIOUS FOR PEACE.

BUT POPULATION EXCITED.

LONDON, Aug. 31.
Bulgaria has mobilised the reserve battalions of two frontier regiments in order to prevent the passage of large bands into Macedonia.

Messages which are published in the "Times" state that Bulgaria sincerely intends the preservation of peace as long as possible, but that Turkish excesses in Macedonia are infusing the population of Sofia and other centres.

The augmentation of Turkish troops near the frontier also does not tend to allay excitement in the principalities.

SERVIANS BELLIGERENT.

GENERAL BALKAN WAR SOUGHT.

LONDON, Aug. 31.
A mass meeting of the citizens of Belgrade on Sunday appealed to Servians to not depend upon the European Powers for intervention.

The meeting declared that Servia, Bulgaria, and Montenegro ought to occupy and rebuild the Turkish Empire.

It was resolved to urge the Serbian Government to intervene on behalf of the Macedonians.

ON THE LAND.

FARM AND STATION.
DAIRYING ON THE NORTH COAST.
THE GREAT BYRON BAY FACTORY.
LARGE RETURNS TO THE FARMERS.
(BY OUR SPECIAL COMMISSIONER)

"Have you been on the rivers?" is the question now popped at recent visitors to New South Wales who are disposed to refer to the State as a good country. "The river," said one, "is the best place to live in." The new buildings will provide factory room for curing 400 pigs per week, and it is expected that ere long the supplies will reach that figure. At present about 500 per lb is paid for pork, the products having come from the local butchers. The market is still open to the farmers, who have sold their hams since the beginning of the year. The farmers have the satisfaction of knowing that the prices they receive for pork, as for butter, are exactly in accord with the ruling values for the product, the cost of manufacture being small. There is no reason why the actual cost of the return since the actual net profits are equally divided among the suppliers. All supplies of imported material used in the factory are intended by the company, and this buying at fixed costs greatly reduces the outlay on manufacture. During the previous half-year ended last October, the price of bacon was very high, and suppliers must have "coloured money." The average price received by the company was 16d per lb, and with the bonus suppliers gave 14d per lb for butter. Therefore the quantity of butter was only 1,325 lbs, or for bacon 1,100 lbs, while the total value of bacon since the actual net profits are equally divided among the suppliers. All supplies of imported material used in the factory are intended by the company, and this buying at fixed costs greatly reduces the outlay on manufacture. During the previous half-year ended last October, the price of bacon was very high, and suppliers must have "coloured money."

COOMA.—Hams driven to market have been laid in within easy reach is some clearing on two of the hills which lie back of the town, and the company will form part of a couple of miles of broken range which stretches away to the Queensland border, and includes Mount Warning and other notable eminences in its chain. Yet the North Coast Co-operative Company may make more butter here than is turned out by any other firm in Australia. The supplies mostly have their farms within easy reach of the railway line, which runs 60 miles from Lismore, the capital of the great Bellingen River country, to Murwillumbah, on the Tweed, the town which marks the coast, the border line in trade between Sydney and Brisbane. The company's butter is already packed and sent to the chief districts of what is the most powerful co-operative concern in dairying in Australia. Only cream supplies are received, and these come by rail, while a few suppliers deliver by vehicles. The factory is right on the railway line, and on to it come the cream tanks which bring in nearly all the cans of cream taken to the ship's side. All through the most serious period of the late drought the districts which supply this factory kept in good heart, and prices for butter running to 16d per lb, splendid returns were received by the management.

THE MANAGEMENT.
The North Coast Company has been true and constant to the co-operative ideal, and has also steadily aimed at producing a high-class article. For this the directors and the manager (Mr. Wallace Brandon) have suffered many trials and errors, but the victory assured when supplies were short and competition grew fierce the Byron Bay management steadily refused to give top prices for inferior cream. At first three grades of cream were made, but when the system was a complete success, two more were adopted, and even the butter is made from those. Mr. Brandon has proved the oft-expressed view that it is the abuse of the farm separate and not its use which lowers the quality of our butter. All the farmers supplying this factory appear to be in a day and night process of delivery. In the important matter of temperature it is impossible for many farmers to do much with coolers, because they have no means of securing a cool water supply. Mr. Brandon, therefore, encourages aeration of the tanks which ensure good cream. The men who work in the yards of this part of the country by this co-operative concern is inadmissible, and perhaps the most important feature in the whole scene is the encouragement and assistance rendered to farmers in improving their methods. With every effort to assist the farmers, the circulars of a circular are sent to the farmers. These circulars contain useful practical information as to the progress of the company, condition of the market, and hints on the best way to treat supplies on the farm, so as to get the best price. The management seems to have reached the minds of the farmers and enlisted their sympathies and interest in the important question of keeping up quality with excellent results.

The State Agricultural Department can not help nearly so successfully in its educational work as the management of the Byron Bay Company.

THE OUTPUT.
The large factory has frequently been described, and it suffices here to say that more and experience have equipped it with a most effective modern plant. The output amounts to 1,000 lbs per day, and the company's factory, established eight months ago, is now making over 11 tons per week, so that in the height of the season the output will be 100 tons per week.

THE SUBURBS.
At the annual meeting of the Armcliffe Progress Association, held on Tuesday evening, Mr. G. S. Braine, M.L.A., writes:—In your issue of Thursday last you published a report of what is stated to have taken place in the Legislative Assembly on the previous evening in relation to the bill for the erection of a Public School at Belmont. It has been signed.

The Mayor (Mr. J. Dennis) submitted a complaint to the Minister of Education, and the Minister, after a full debate, agreed to the bill.

ANGLINE.
The prospects for the shearing season appear to be of a brighter nature than the last, but it is expected that it will be possible to secure a better price for lambs than the Government did not undertake the work, the company will be prepared to carry it out. The government is also set, and everybody is anxious for the coming season, which is most promising.

MORPETH.
The half-yearly meeting of the North Coast Co-operative Dairy Company was held on Monday, Aug. 21. The net profit for the period was £1,000. The average price paid for butter was 16d per lb, and the profit on the grocery amounted to £100, or 10s per ton. The company will pay a dividend of 10s per cent. The reason the company fixes one-third of the cost of which to pay interest is that they only buy from the best farms, and the best farms are the northern side of the river, while the service is expected to conserve enough water to supply a southern scheme, and also to save the cost of carrying the water to the river.

NARRABRRA.
In consequence of heavy rainfall the head of the Barwon River, at Narrabbra, has risen to a height of 10 ft, and the Government did not undertake the work, the company will be prepared to carry it out. The government is also set, and everybody is anxious for the coming season, which is most promising.

CHAPTER XXV.

TURKISH HELL:

This Majesty the Sultan, to whom I hurried on leaving the doctor, expressed his desire to make a statement at the report which it was safe to make. He said naturally enough, was especially interested in the news of Marabout's death. There was an action brought by Alfred James Quinn against Ernest Lewis Quiggin, principal contractor, to recover £1,000 for services rendered for alleged non-delivery of materials. The Pasha had appointed that the Pasha had accepted punishment at the hands of the State.

He questioned me with much ingenuity in it, but having no liking for the part of public informer I gave him the knowledge he wanted with his best efforts. Marabout's own lips, and professed complete ignorance of all names; adding that he had been told that the Zaptiks, they did not want to make use of their opportunities.

He was profoundly moved by the news of the Sultan's death, and said that he was knowingly gone to his death in order to save his Majesty's life. The drift of his questions showed me that he looked upon the Sultan as his personal saviour, and his devotion to him personally, and I did not think it necessary to undeceive him.

Then those of my own faith who I have loaded with favours. It is wonderful," he explained. "His death will be mourned throughout the world. They are my enemies, and shall feel the weight of my anger. If I cannot save him, I can at least avenge him. You will tell him that."

"It would be no comfort to him, his mind is too great to him, of any voice or tone," he said.

"He is a great man for a Christian," said the Sultan, with a characteristic smile.

"Could he out have lived, your Majesty's country and subjects could have had no greater benefactor."

He turned to me to think, and then shook his head slowly.

"It was not to be. We are the children of Allah, and the ways we walk cannot be hidden from him. Allah alone is great and our fate is in his hands."

"He is a great man for a Christian," said the Sultan, with a characteristic smile.

"I would have lived, your Majes-
